Drink and Gambling send many people to perdition, but Procrastination ruins more than all other causes. Are you a procrastinator? Procrastination means to put off from day to day—to delay. Procrastination will take you to Hell. Don't forget that. Get saved to-day.

Varied Experiences in India.

Some of the streams we crossed had a bed of deep mud, and in crossing one of them, the Colonel nearly came off of the horse he was riding, and Brigadier Jang Bahadur's horse threw him over, so that he arrived at his destination in an extra coating of clean field mud.—Indian Cry.

SOLDIERS OF SALVATION—HOW THEY CONQUER.

BY COMMISSIONER RAILTON.

WHETHER over persons or communities, the victory won by our people through God's power, is so rapid that it is difficult to say where the stage of pioneering or of fighting begins, and where it ends in the fact of conquest.

Amongst the Laps, for example, those gipsy-like people who have to wander over vast territories of the Far North, to tend their herds of reindeer, no absolutely settled establishment can ever be. Our comrades of Sweden, Norway and Finland who go after them, must always be doing a part of pioneer work, pitching their moving tent near the moving population, and returning to town or village life only for some months of winter, when the Laps themselves do so. A more dangerous or exhausting service no pioneer of earthly armies ever had; and yet, thank God, our comrades not only aim at, but realise, grand permanent results in the hearts of these wanderers, some of whom have already become Officers.

Again, Outpost work, which often consists in holding meetings several miles away from any Corps, may develop any day into the opening of a new Corps, and so be looked back upon as a part of the regular operations of the Corps that began it. How glad I was to hear an Officer say one day, that, after commanding many large Corps or Institutions, she still looked back for her brightest memory to the days when, as a Lieutenant, she was going alone to an Outpost—a nine miles' walk every Sunday. The return journey, along dark lanes, far from any house, was that which gave this service its most precious enjoyment to her; for, realising the fellowship of God all the way, she gathered from Him on those solitary marches, invaluable strength for all her future fightings. Just such walks alone with God, either to or from Outposts, or to or from War Cry selling, or to or from any other duty have been amongst our grandest times of conquest of the world.

Scandalous Misconduct.

The Norwegian Soldier, skirting thirty English miles to a meeting, takes a bigger share in the conquest of the world by the whole Army than any of us can measure. Oh, how true it is, as we sing, especially of all who really pray—

We're marching on, we're marching on;
We're marching on together;
God bless our Army round the world,
And keep us true for ever.

To be true to God trusting Him as fully as we are always singing that we do—that is the victory.

A rough lag at Chatham, was often kept out of the meetings by the doorkeeper, owing to his scandalous misconduct in the Hall. But after thirty years he came to see the Officer's wife, who in those early days had shaken him, scolded him, and wept over him, to tell her that for many years he had wandered, yet ever and anon seeming to feel her hot tears dropping on his hand, till he at length surrendered to God, was saved, and became a true Soldier. How often the finest conquests are going on when we seem to be losing.

The only of our newspapers, more especially where our Halls are smallest and the fight seems hardest, is all the time securing for us conquests, the importance of which we cannot measure at the time; and yet, of course, we cannot but be awake to the great loss of results that might be gained in so many directions, but for the want of money to pay for buildings, and for other means wherewith to facilitate our advance.

A Startling Question.

We have at one of our French Corps, a mother, who goes, in the witness meeting every Sunday morning at 8.30, and after that spends all the rest of the day carrying seventy to eighty of our papers to a widely scattered circle of villages, gaining converts every now and then. In one Swiss city, some three hundred of the worst young men began to attend the meetings with the intention of disturbing them. All appeared at first indifferent, but ere long they came under the power of God's Spirit. In the cafes, The Army was the topic of discussion, so that they actually helped us, over their glasses, to the conquest of their companions.

In another city, when the meetings were forbidden in our Hall, a comrade, already won, opened his house as a meeting-place. It was soon known as the "Citadel," because the dear Soldier to whom it belonged had to barricade it against the heavy stones that were thrown against the doors and windows and on to the roof. His only revenge was to paint on the roof, in letters large enough to be read even by those who passed the place far away on the lovely lake beside it, the Salvationist shell question, that has gone into and exploded in so many million hearts: "Are You Saved From Sin?" Many a one will remember the hot exhortation that used to blaze down from our Headquarters' chimney in London, until another building was raised high enough to hide it: "Save Your Soul!" These great and various announcements, by the way, have done much towards the conquest of souls—not, we think only by their own effect on the onlooker, but because they have indicated a fearless spirit of aggression which they have helped to maintain amongst us.

It is a common thing now that the authorities have been sufficiently won over to our side, for an Officer to obtain from the police the names of all the drunkards and criminals of a place, confident that his Soldiers, though themselves brought up, in so many cases, in entirely different circumstances will gladly run after such friendless ones until they capture them for God. One such person often proves just the needed instrument to catch scores more.

And then this sort of capture so commends us to the sympathy of all well-intentioned people that we often get by it a hearing from a whole town. German public opinion has been won over to our side, throughout the whole Empire, since it has been seen that we not only talk and sing about rescuing the perishing, but that, by God's help, we really do it.

They Wanted Fun.

Three of our leading Officers in the Fatherland did their time of naval service on the Kaiser's famous yacht. They were really glad for it because they were unusually well educated and conducted well; but they were as careless about their souls as young sailors generally are when they strolled into our Kiel Hall to see the fun. But God's Spirit took hold of their hearts: they came to Christ; gave themselves, as soon as their service was completed, to our War, and steadily advanced; till now, as Divisional Commanders, they have our operations in large stretches of the Empire under their care.

When a Government school teacher in Germany wanted to become an Officer, and had no means to repay as the law required, the cost of his training, before coming into Training with us the Kaiser, upon his appearing to, kindly ordered his release from the obligation to pay the £21 15s. due.

But Australian Governments deserve the eternal credit for having been the first to perceive The Army's enormous powers for good, and to begin to give us moral support and even some special facilities, to influence their criminal classes. Before we had been two years at work in their central colony, The Governor-General of Java has, however, so far left all other Governments behind on this line, having taken the trouble personally to look into matters, when he was of course assembled, to find how much better and more cheaply we could nurse and help all the needy classes than any Government or other machinery could do it.

"Make Jesus King."

Thus, without running about the lobbies of Parliament, or the palaces of statesmen, but by simply caring for every part of a man's being God has helped us to win not only individuals and masses but authorities and nations for Him.

It looked for a time, as though our latest conquest abroad—Korea—was going to be the most wonderful in the present time. Certainly the state of things, when thousands came weeping in penitence, as few one Officer has had time to learn their language, and then, filled with God's power, go publishing Salvation all over their country, is beyond parallel in our past.

But, unfortunately, the leader of our Training Work in London has been suffering all the eight hundred Officers and Cadets under his direction for several attacks upon the East of London, and any belief in God who saw the march of the four thousand odd Soldiers held in the Victoria Park, to demonstrate in favour of Jesus Christ on May Day this year and who knows the large force of saved Soldiers rising up besides in our Social Institutions throughout the Metropolis, must have doubted whether the old birthplace of The Army is not going, after all, to eclipse any other part of the world in help to carry out that grand motto suggested by Japanese students to all Christians: "Make Jesus King."

St. Thomas.—The Railway City has just been favoured with a week-end visit from its Provincial Commander, Lieut-Colonel Sharp. The P. C. was assisted by the D. O. Staff Captain Crichton, and Eastern Railway good meetings were held. The P. C. captivated his audience. In the morning, five persons sought a clean heart; and later in the day one comrade, who had felt the sacrifice too great in the morning, got the victory. In the evening meeting the Colonel embraced with his meeting a memorial service for a comrade who was promoted to Glory during the week—Mrs. Cable—a very godly woman who was suddenly taken into the Master's presence. The Colonel was divinely upheld during his talk, and, after a well-ought prayer meeting, nine souls sought deliverance from sin.—A. Crichton, St. Thomas.

Lieut.-Col. Southall at Vancouver.

STIRRING TIMES.

On Saturday evening, November 20th, Colonel Southall, accompanied by Major Morris, stepped from the train and was heartily greeted by Adjutant Howell and his famous Silver Band. An open-air meeting was held after which we proceeded to the Citadel where the Colonel gave his lecture, "On the Thames Embankment at Midnight." There was a large crowd present.

Major Morris introduced the Colonel, and Staff-Captain Collier, and Deputy-Bandmaster Bone also, rendered a welcome to which the Colonel replied in his genial manner. Adjutant Bone then sang after which the Colonel proceeded with his wonderful lecture. The people sat with their attention riveted upon the speaker as he vividly described the deplorable condition of the homeless poor.

The Colonel has the gift of drawing mental pictures with such clearness that one could easily take in the full force of the situation. His address was most inspiring.

The morning holiness meeting at the Citadel was indeed a spiritual treat. The Colonel made it clear that all the way down through the ages God had set apart for His work holy consecrated men that they might do His work and lead His people out of bondage. "God is still looking for men—real men—who will open their hearts and eyes to the needs of the people." Two consecrated themselves for service.

The meeting in the afternoon was a time of inspiration. The Colonel described the wanderings of Judah, and how they had been reclaimed and "Comforted by God."

The Citadel was crowded at night, and an overflow meeting was conducted by Adjutant Howell. The Colonel, although fatigued with long journeys and heavy meetings, soon forgot his weariness and the next moment dealt out the judgments of God with much earnestness. God's command to repent must be obeyed, if we are to escape the judgment.

When Major Morris gave the invitation, six precious souls responded to the call. The greater part of the audience remained through the prayer meeting, and a time of singing was conducted, when the light broke in upon the seekers.

The Colonel had a very busy day. For, in addition to the Senior meetings, he conducted a meeting with the Young People, and also personally interviewed twelve Candidates.

LIEUT.-COL. SOUTHALL VISITS NEW WESTMINSTER.

On Tuesday, November 23rd, Major Morris with the Vancouver Silver Band, accompanied Colonel Southall to New Westminster, where Captain Pasco and his band were on the spot to meet him.

Mayor Keary ably presided, and spoke in glowing terms of the grand and good work of The Army. He gave the Colonel a most hearty welcome, and assured him that he could always be counted upon as a sincere friend of The Army. The Colonel replied, expressing his appreciation of the whole-hearted and warm welcome he had received.

On Wednesday, November 24th, Mr. H. Corbett was favored by a visit. The Hall was crowded, and the Colonel expressed his pleasure at being present. Bandmaster Redfern was called upon to speak. The Bandmaster was in a reminiscent mood, and recalled some of the "wonderful and wonderful times" he experienced when an Officer under the Colonel, and traveling through the North-West Province. Major Morris sang a beautiful solo, "Lean on His Arm." The Colonel gave a most earnest and soul-stirring address. One and four Christ.

The meeting closed by singing, "God be with you till we meet again," and concluded a series of meetings that have proved to be a real spiritual uplift to the Soldiers and people of Vancouver. The Colonel received many pressing invitations to come again and to assured a sincere welcome.—Staff-Captain Walsford.

Under the Shade of the Palms.

How West Indian Salvationists Spend Christmas—The First Season.

By Staff-Captain W. T. Shaw.

Bringing in the Christmas Supplies to Kingston Market, From the Mountains.

ANY Canadian readers will, no doubt smile at the idea of Christmas in Jamaica, yet, while Canada is covered with snow, and the keen winds keep many around the fire, in the West Indies the thermometer will run from 80 to 85 in the shade with a cloudless sky and nature in all its summer glory.

A Journalist describing such a scene says:—

"Jamaica may be reckoned one of the most romantic and highly diversified islands in the world uniting such magnificent scenery with waving forests, never falling streams, and constant verdure, heightened by a pure atmosphere and the glowing tint of the sun."

"It is tropical, of course, but the heat of the day is tempered by a breeze which blows daily from the sea, while at night, a cooler and gentler air brings freshness down from the uplands. Indeed the charm of life in the tropics is that it is lived practically in the open-air."

Although the surroundings are so different, yet the same spirit of goodwill and peace to all is manifested.

The aged folks and the poor people are not forgotten. Through the kindness of merchants and friends in most of the principal towns there is a gathering of these people a day or two before Christmas, when parcels of provisions consisting of meat, four, rice, coffee, sugar, biscuits, etc., are handed out, so that they can enjoy the Christmas feast under their own roof, inviting any friends to share it with them.

One old lady expressing herself on leaving said "Thank you me much, Massa!" "You a little bit something else, I mak dis do for a week."

Christmas day is ushered in by an early morning service at 5 a.m., in all the churches. The Army Halls also are filled at this time with Salvationists and friends, gladly celebrating the birth of the World's Redeemer.

In certain islands—where distance allows—a number of Field Officers are invited by the Divisional Officer to have dinner together. This opportunity of close comradeship, is looked forward to by all.

The house is tastefully decorated with roses and other flowers, but one looks in vain for the sprig of holly!

At such functions as these, merry and varied are the experiences of the Officer's wife, upon whom falls the duty of providing the meals.

On one occasion, when everybody was seated at the table, ready to begin the hostess was called into the office by a visitor. The left strict instructions for the coloured cook to put some colouring into the sauce before bringing it to the table. Imagine the consternation and surprise when it was discovered that the young lady, instead of following the instructions given her, had put a teaspoonful of Jeyes' Disinfecting Fluid into the sauce, which she poured all over the dinner! Needless to say, the hostess was tactfully the guest consisting of fruit.

During the day is spent in for Field Days etc. in some picturesque spot, or in some field in the country.

In Barbados, the Indian Islands, a small boat is chartered to carry about a dozen Salvationists, and from the city to take a boat of their commander and his wife down the coast to a house at such a place as is described.

By 6 a.m. the whole scene of animation, as the in their gay uniforms, baskets of provisions, and some while the music passes quickly in the instruments, singing of especially, is the famous running as follows:—

"There is joy in my soul, in my soul."

Jesus' blood has made me free, Glory Hallelujah!

His blood and power have changed this heart of mine. There is joy, joy, joy in my soul."

As the boat comes up to the greetings are exchanged and their comrades for a salvation in the open air. Different meetings are conducted for the Seamen and the People, the enthusiasm never as the town is bombarded united march, headed by the on a white horse!

The return journey is rather different spectacle. The tents of the provisions are directed for the Seamen and the crowd disembark after a day in the service of the Lord.

More difficult problems to carry out the same in scattered, mountainous Jamaica. Within a radius of five miles, there are the Corps and Societies, the hills and valleys. The very difficult, therefore, the Divisional Officer visits every few months. The toll on sometimes among the circumstances of the day is given, they are to undergo a little of the help and inspiration meeting with one another.

Novel means of transport, the fate requirement, at the moment touch this part of the there are motor buses in town.

Baggies, mules, horses and the humble, but serviceable are all in evidence at the place. Those who were in this war, returned to poverty, for the winding paths, the winding paths, and, in some cases, lighters, in order to be present.

From 150 to 200 are present outside the town of St. George on this gala day.

Before the Territorial Commander's Secretary is present, conducts the day's proceedings, an enthusiastic singing and Covenant Service. The Army Hall, about 100, is crowded dispersed, and in the evening, the soldiers' trade, both from the mountain sides, recall the joyful scene while thousands of fires illuminate the pathway of various homes, which are lit in some cases with the light of the dawn, when the day away.

Calgary.—On Sunday, 21st we had Brigadier-General P. O. with us. Owing to the thermometer in "Sunny Acre" to test below zero, but we were not able to play on the snow. We were good, considering the weather. Our Band is making progress under the leadership of Creighton. The City Council has kind enough to give time in while a part of the day's meetings with seven technicians.

THE WORLD AND ITS WAYS

Parliamentary History in Great Britain.

Parliamentary history of Great Britain, has been created by the action of the Lloyd-George and the country in a financial paralysis, so far as the collection of revenues is concerned. The "Toronto Globe" thus explains the matter.

During the whole of the long interval between the adoption of the resolutions and the present, taxes have been collected in accordance with their provisions, as the usual practice, the collection made in each case, and to later minor adjustments, the rejection of the Budget has a change imperatively necessitated. The collection of revenue under the resolutions must cease according to the announcement by the Asquith, the Prime Minister, "the necessities of the can be supplied only through the."

A mere statement of this fact, the gravity of the crisis. That the debt and solvent nation should be compelled to borrow money to pay its financial liabilities from the British citizen bluish, and every Great Britain glaze.

As a result, the time has elapsed, and the outcome of the election will be awaited with the greatest interest by the whole.

Local Education, Canada.

A question on local education in Canada was recently dealt with in the House of Commons, by Hugh Guthrie, Member for Wellington.

He pointed out both the Canadian Manufacturer's Association and Trades and Labour Congress of Canada had passed resolutions in favour of the establishment of a national system of local education, the leading educators and Boards of Trade throughout the country, had in their movement, and for technical education was no means local sectional. It is entirely national in character.

In other countries, like Germany, Italy, Great Britain and the United States, had recognized the need of technical training and were spending sums of money for the purpose of enabling the individual citizen to better to gain a livelihood, the nation to maintain its proper place in the markets of the world.

The demand for technical education on the part of the citizens and the men of Canada, arose from a noble desire to improve themselves in their trades and crafts, in the hope that thereby they might secure their remuneration and perfection in their work under less laborious conditions. On the part of the employers it arose from the fact that in recent years, manufacturers found it a difficult matter to procure either in the home or foreign markets, against manufacturers countries where there were staffs of technically-trained artisans at their disposal.

Canada's Future.

At the Manufacturers' Banquet in Montreal, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, the hope of Canada's future, grew eloquent as he showed the progress and expansion of our country. His speech concluded as follows:

"Do not let us neglect literature and art in the midst of our great material development. Let Canada hold up to the motherland a nation self-reliant, self-confident, but a nation drawing ever closer to that land that gave us birth and bestowed on us her laws, her language and her literature. Then when our trade grows, when our fleets on both oceans and on every lake shall expand when new lands are opened and new peoples fill our plains, we can leave them the priceless heritage which we received from Great Britain, our mother country."

Trouble Feared in Nicaragua.

The situation in Nicaragua is becoming more serious every day, and the United States Government is moving naval forces to both coasts of Central America for the purpose of protecting American life and property. The troopship "Prairie" has been despatched from Philadelphia, with seven hundred marines aboard, while on the opposite side of the continent the cruiser, "Albatross," and the gunboat "Yorktown," have sailed from Magdalena Bay. Besides this, the cruisers "Des Moines," and "Tacona," and the gunboat "Marta," are lying off Port Limon, Costa Rica, ready for any call upon them.

Rear Admiral Kimball has been chosen as commander of the American Naval forces.

ains has progressed rapidly. The tunnel is five miles long, and the highest in the world. The line now reaches to the summit of the Cordillera range and will join a railway of the same gauge from Mendoza. The completed line from Arica to La Paz, will be about three hundred miles long, and will cost in the neighbourhood of fifteen million dollars.

Holidays for Newspaper Men.

Thanksgiving Day in New York was celebrated by an almost total absence of evening papers. The plan for discontinuing them on holidays has been under discussion for several years. Several publishers long have refused to get out editions on Christmas Day, on the ground that the extra cost did not warrant their publication. It was also argued that the newspaper workers were entitled to their holidays. If the public does not voice an overwhelming desire for its favorite evening papers this time it may have to go without at Christmas, New Year's, Washington's Birthday, and even the Fourth of July.

Japan's Silence.

The Army and Navy Journal, in commenting on the books published concerning the Russo-Jap war, says: "As one reads the avalanche of Washington, that Pearl Harbour, in the Hawaiian Islands, long recognized as the key to the control of the Pacific is to be made the principal naval base in western waters of the United States, and is to be so fortified as to resist attack by a foreign fleet.

This decision, of far reaching importance, was announced at the navy department. Following a conference between President Taft and Mr. Meyer, secretary of the navy, on recommendations made by the joint army and navy board. At the same time it was decided to abandon plans for a naval base at Manila to establish a limited naval repair station at Subig Bay, and to leave the fortification of the Philippines in the hands of the army.

The entire plan, which is now to be pushed to completion, was the subject of much discussion among army and navy authorities, who disagree over some of it, but were unanimous in desiring it to be the safest and most effective so far as controlling the Pacific, and protecting the American West was concerned. It is pointed out that a well fortified naval base and coaling station in the Pacific, is the first essential for the operations of the navy in these waters. Hawaii has been recognized as the strategic point for this establishment, as the first point in this point is within steaming radius of the Philippines, the Pacific coast, and the entrance to the Panama canal.

A Valuable Dinner.

Whilst a man at Atlantic City was eating oysters for his dinner, he hit something hard. When he removed the obstruction from his mouth, he was astonished to find he held a half dozen pearls. One was about the size of a buckshot, and the others as large as good sized peas.

He did not think much about his find until he took them to a jeweller who said they were worth $150,000. The pearls were not discovered in the shell, but in the body of the oyster.

Pardon and Penance.

The London Daily "Mail" publishes a strange story concerning a military deserter. It is as follows:

"After an absence of forty years, John Peck, a native of Nottingham returned to England recently, and discovered that he was still liable to be arrested or having deserted from his regiment in 1868. His career, however, has been a remarkable one, that when the facts were related, the War Office not only granted him a free pardon, but a pension as well.

"Peck ran away from home at the age of twelve, and went to sea. He subsequently joined the army, and served in the Crimean and Boer wars, was declared, he got transferred to another regiment, and was ordered out to India, where he went through the Mutiny. Later he quarrelled with an officer and deserted."

"He had a hard time as a South African diamond prospector, but whenever a chance of fighting occurred he always embraced it, and so he served against the Basutos, the Zulus and the Boers. His relatives had not heard of him for fifty years, when he reappeared. He is now seventy-two years of age, and is bent on going back to South Africa to find work in the mines."

There are many deceivers from God's service who may read this and say, "Return to me, and I will return unto you."

The House of Lords, Which is the Subject of Much Discussion.

A Repentant Burglar.

The sight of two sleeping children caused a burglar in Chicago to repent of his deeds and return money he had stolen from their parents. He had ransacked the garments of the father and taken all the money in his wife's purse. He then went into the room where the children were sleeping, and tiptoeing out, gave to the astonished parents, the money which he had taken, a small sum, and added a silver coin, saying "Those are great kids. I haven't got much coin but you can give them this for me."

True it is that.

Down in the human heart, crushed by the tempter, Feelings lie buried, that grace can restore."

Trans-Andean Tunnel.

Chile and Bolivia recently celebrated the opening of the new Trans-Andean Tunnel, connecting Arica, on the northeast coast of Chile, with the Bolivian city of La Paz, on the south shore of Lake Titicaca. The Chilean section of the tunnel was opened on March 25th, 1899, and the work of piercing the Andes Mount-looks from military men and others in the Manchurian war, on the other, by the absence of Japanese authors. Whether or not a prohibition has been put upon the publishing of war volumes by officers of the Japanese army, such silence would be in keeping with the reputation of its favorites, who have the name of listening much and saying little. As it is now, the Japanese are profuse by what the observers of other nations have given to the world, while the lessons they themselves learned, are locked in their breasts. It may be that the difficulty of translating works from Japanese will account for paucity of Japanese official comment, but it is more likely that their traditional caution has kept them from contributing to the literary deluge which has followed the war.

Many officers on the Russian side, including the distinguished General Kuropatkin have kept their pens busy with their impressions of the war, but we have yet to read of any work by Marshal Oyama, General Kuroki, General Nogori, Admiral Togo."

POWER.

BY COLONEL BRENGLE

"Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you."

A rising young lawyer got filled with the Spirit, and the next day said to his client: "I cannot plead your case. I have a retainer from the Lord Jesus;" and he became one of the mightiest preachers the world has ever seen.

used, but not abused, will help to develop and maintain the purest and highest manhood. The appetites for food and drink are necessary to life. Another desire is intended to secure the continuance of the human race. And so all the desires and appetites of the body have useful ends, and were given to us in love by our Heavenly Father for high and essential purposes, and are necessary to us as human beings.

But the soul, cut off from fellowship with God by sin, seeks satisfaction in sensual excesses, and the unlawful gratification of these appetites, and so sinks to depths of degradation, to which no beast ever falls. Thus man becomes a slave; swollen and raging passion takes the place of innocent appetites and desires.

Now when the Holy Spirit enters tobacco for over sixty years, delivered from the abnormal appetite instantly through sanctification of the Spirit. I knew an old man, who had been a drunkard for over fifty years, similarly delivered. I knew a young man the slave of a vicious habit of the flesh, who was set free at once by the fiery baptism. The electric current cannot transform the dead wire into a live one quicker than the Holy Spirit can flood a soul with light and love, destroy the carnal mind, and fill a man with power over all sin.

3. Power over the devil. The indwelling presence of the Holy Spirit destroys all doubt as to the personality of the devil. He is discerned, and his malice is felt and known as never before.

In the dark a man may be so skillfully attacked that his enemy is not discovered, but not in the day. Many people in these days deny that there is any devil, only evil; but they are in the dark, so much in the dark that they not only say that there is no devil, but that there is no personal God, only good. But the day

"THE POOR YE HAVE ALWAYS WITH YOU."—CHRIST.

This cartoon depicts the circumstances in which Christmas will find some who, through sickness or other unavoidable causes, will have to endure bitter misery. Will you help The Army to bring a little cheer to such. Send gifts for this purpose to the Commissioner, Salvation Army Temple, Toronto.

Men could whip, and stone, and imprison his body, and cut off his head, but his soul was free. It was enslaved and driven by no unholy or inordinate ambition, by no lust for gold, by no desire for power or fame, by no fear of man, by no shame of worldly censure or adverse public opinion. He had power over the world, and this same power is the birthright of every converted man, and the present possession of every one who is wholly sanctified by the baptism with the Holy Ghost.

2. Power over the flesh. The body which God intended for a "house beautiful" for the soul, and a temple holy unto Himself, is often reduced to a sty, where the imprisoned soul wallows in lusts and passions and degrades itself below the level of beasts. But this baptism gives a man power over his body.

God has given to man such desires and passions as are necessary to secure his continued existence, and not one is in itself evil, but good and only good; and when controlled and the heart and sanctifies the soul. He does not destroy these desires, but He purifies and regulates them. He reinforces the soul with the fear and love of God and gives it power, complete power, over the fleshly appetites. He restores it to its full fellowship with God and its kingship over the body.

But while these appetites and desires are not in themselves sinful, but are necessary for our welfare and our complete manhood, and while their diseased and abnormal power is cured when we are sanctified, they are still avenues through which we may be tempted. Therefore, they must be guarded with care and ruled in wisdom. Many people stumble at, and reject the doctrine of entire sanctification because they do not understand these things. They mistake that which is natural and essential to a human being for the diseased and abnormal propensity caused by sin, and so miss the blessed truth of full salvation.

I knew a doctor, who had used comes with the Holy Spirit's entrance, and then God is intimately known and the devil is discovered. And as he assailed Jesus after His baptism with the Spirit so He does today, all who receive the Holy Ghost. He comes as an angel of light to deceive, and as a roaring lion to devour and overcome with fear; but the soul filled with the Spirit outwits the devil and, clad in the whole armour of God, overcomes the old enemy.

"Power over all the power of the enemy" is God's purpose for all His children. Power to do the will of God patiently and effectively, with naturance and ease, or to suffer the will of God with patience and good cheer, comes with this blessed baptism. It is power for service on sacrifice, according to God's will. Have you this power? If not, it is for you. Yield yourself fully to Christ just now, and if you ask in faith you shall receive.

"Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed?"

PUBLIC MORALITY.

Where is no doubt that the authorities responsible for maintenance of law and order, are awakening to a sense of their responsibility in dealing with matters affecting the moral well-being of the community. Quite recently we drew attention to Judge Weir's remarks, following his action in a certain case of three offenders against public morality. In effect, it was, that he gave them the maximum punishment provided for their offence, and was sorry that he could not give them more.

Now, we have Colonel Denison, of the Toronto Police Court, making use of the terrors of the law, to put down evil. An indecent play was being acted in a Toronto theatre, and through the courage and public spirit of a minister of the Gospel, a conviction against the manager was secured, and when sentencing the manager of the house the Magistrate is reported to have said: "I should like to get the actors who do such things; and I will guarantee, once they have appeared, they will not come back in a hurry."

This is all to the good, and should prove an effective deterrent to the prurient-minded of the theatrical profession. We can congratulate the Magistrate on his attitude to this evil, and the Minister on his public spirit in going to the theatre for the purpose of getting evidence, and then bringing the case into court.

What is wanted on the part of all communities, is more interest in the cause of morality, and greater aggressiveness. The Salvation Army has ever been noted for the latter quality, and many of the blessings and privileges we enjoy to-day, have come to us through the noble efforts of comrades who have gone before us. Let us see to it that we do not get lax.

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

A frightful view of the white slave trade in America, is given by the President of the National White Cross League, Addressing an audience, she said:—

"At $1,000 a head, average price of negro girls on the auction block thirty years ago the three hundred thousand white slaves in the United States to-day, represent an investment of $500,000,000. Each year, sixty-seven thousand, or $120,000,000 worth of these women are sacrificed in the highly financed districts of vice throughout the country and an equal number of recruits are procured each year to take their places. Of this vast army of unfortunates, whose march from the home to the morgue, or the insane asylum, because of the vice route, has been shown by statistics to average but five miserable years. Chicago, today, contributes 37,000."

It is to be feared that many of Canada's daughters have been inveigled into this horrible condition, and parents cannot be too careful in seeing that their children who leave home to live with people who are respectable. The Salvation Army's extensive Rescue operations reveal that many innocent girls have been led into a life of shame through carelessness on the part of parents or friends, in seeing that the situations to which they have been sent have been respectable or not.

The Transcontinental Trip.

OUR LEADER'S FIXTURES FOR JANUARY.

On the last page will be found the announcement of a very important tour which will be undertaken by our Leaders early in the new year. Commissioner and Mrs. Coombs and Colonel and Mrs. Stapp, with other comrades will travel to Vancouver, conducting special soul-saving campaigns, and dealing with property questions, etc., at most of the cities in the great North-West and B. C. As will be seen by the fixtures, the Tour is a very comprehensive one, and by means of a division of forces, a great area will be covered. We want all our own comrades to pray that this tour may be made the means of great inspiration and impetus to the Corps visited, and that many may be eternally saved.

THE GENERAL THE COMMISSIONER

CONDUCTS A

Vigorous Campaign in Portsmouth Hippodrome.

Sir George Courtenay Presides on Sunday Afternoon—Spiritual, Naval and Military Leaguers.

His great town of naval, military, and Salvation Army traditions, has been powerfully moved by The General's visit. Portsmouth is noted for its crowds. You will find that the masses, as they are called, are more full, resuscitated here than in any other town south of the Thames. Who ever has witnessed the towering thousands surging along Commercial Road on a Saturday night, will not soon forget the scene. No wonder that The General's heart was moved by that spectacle of men and women disregarding God and intent upon everything but their responsibility to God. His compassionate soul yearns over them.

"The people—the people—the poor people; let us do all we can for the people," was the burden of The General's heart and the expression of his lips as soon as he reached his hotel on Saturday night. It could not be anything else than the burden of his message on the morrow. That this feeling kindled an instant and unanimous response in his audience could not be mistaken. The case was well put by a young man, a navy man, who, in a few words, said: "I am a sailor, and I am a Christian."

In his vigorous testimony, the man in whom he saw promise that he understood of salvation righteousness. "Aye," said one in ten thousand. We saw another like him, and we saw him! I say, and long may he be a man of his class."

The General's address was a long and powerful one, and was well received by the audience. He had only one word to say, and that was "Aye," and he said it with a meaning that was not lost on the audience.

Pays a Flying Visit to Three Toronto Corps.

I was quite in keeping that this No. 1 Corps of the Territory should be the first on the list. The beautiful new City was just on fire for the Sunday morning meeting with Soldiers and Sailors.

The Corps has made good progress lately, under Captain and Mrs. Stapp. The Commissioner congratulated the Corps and the Band for their playing, and hoped for still further improvements in the future.

After the writer had sung "Make Me a Lover of Jesus," our Leader gave his audience to a most helpful reading, where's pure religion and unadorned, was set forth. The Commissioner then, the new Divisional Officer, introduced, afterwards giving a definite testimony on the lines of his salvation.

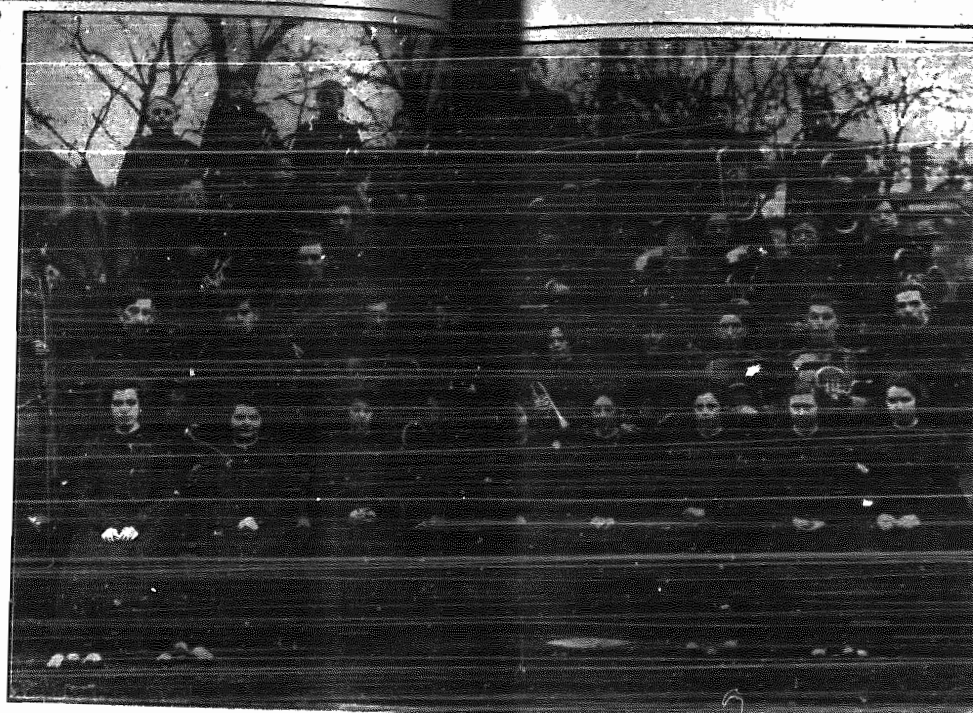

There was a remarkable afterglow. The morning's invitation was given, from all over the city, they came, with ten lives following and packed the Church. Nobody can visit this west-end Corps without being impressed with the magnitude of the opportunity there is of doing a mighty work for God and eternity. We believe Captain and Mrs. Osborne with their devoted Soldiers, will have a winter of good success.

Dovercourt Corps has the appearance of being an all-ative Corps and is to be congratulated on having Adjutant and Mrs. Habbick to lead it on. There are far-reaching opportunities in this district for our work, and we are hoping to see the Corps double itself during the winter months. May God grant it!

At 11:30 Street—(Sunday night.) A splendid open air service preceded the one inside, the Commissioner heading a very lengthy procession. The powerful Band gathered a large crowd with their sweet music, who followed and packed the Church. Jack's One Look.
A Jack-tar arrived who had been under Captain and Mrs. The Commissioner conducted the Corps and the Band in playing, and hoped for still further improvements in the future.

In his vigorous address, The General strikingly contrasted the religion of compromise with a longed-for affair—with the all-conquering experience of the sanctified soul, and the response from all over the world, showed the effectiveness of his message and illustrations.

He was given a real, whole-hearted welcome. His address had the right ring with it, and was as a nail fastened in a sore place. They sat with eyes, ears, and many with hearts open, hanging on every word. The visible results were a little disappointing, after such a powerful appeal. There were two surprises.

The Chief Secretary VISITS THE TWO SOOS AND SUDBURY.

Warmly Welcomed by the Three Mayors—44 at Mercy Seat.

Colonel Mapp, accompanied by Lieutenant Colonel Sharp, Adjutant Poncock, and Ensign Bellows, visited Sault Ste Marie for the week-end.

On Saturday, December 4th, the party arrived at the Canadian Soo, where a good open-air meeting was held, the band turning out well, and rendering good service. Mayor Simpson extended a hearty welcome to the Colonel at the inside meeting. It was the first time this gentleman had ever been on an Army platform and he said he was glad of such an opportunity of showing his sympathy with The Salvation Army. Mr. Dawson, a well-known resident of Sault Ste. Marie, also spoke warm words of welcome.

The Colonel replied to these greetings, and then gave an excellent address on the work of The Salvation Army. So pathetic were some of the incidents he related, that tears came to many eyes.

After the meeting, whilst shaking hands with those who remained to speak to him, the Colonel met two men rather the worse for liquor. One was a Frenchman, who had been kicked from God. Both of the men knelt and asked God for pardon before they left the Hall, and the Colonel asked for a volunteer to take them home, look after them and bring them round to the meetings on Sunday. A comrade volunteered for this duty, and to the joy of all, the men came to the Sunday meetings one taking his stand in the open-air.

The holiness meeting was commenced at 7 a.m. and was a very powerful and blessed time, in fact, the Chief Secretary remarking that it was one of the most successful meetings he has ever conducted. The Hall was well filled, and the people listened with intense interest to the Colonel's words. Deep conviction came over many as the burning truths uttered by the speaker pierced their souls, and before the close of the meeting thirty-six came forward to the mercy seat, some for salvation and some for sanctification. Messrs. and Mrs. Poole are in charge of this Corps.

On Sunday afternoon the party crossed over to the American city, and were warmly welcomed by His Honour Mayor Sullivan. The Rev. Smith, Baptist, opened the meeting with prayer, and after the Colonel's address, the Rev. Kennedy, Presbyterian, and Judge Holden spoke a few words each very complimentary to The Army. The latter gentleman kindly entertained the Colonel during his stay in the city.

A storm storm broke over the city before the evening, making it impossible to hold an open-air. The attendance was thus very small, and under the circumstances the Colonel held a holiness meeting with the Soldiers with the result that six came forward to consecrate themselves to God. Ensign and Mrs. Clark are in command here.

On Monday the party travelled to Sudbury. Owing to a storm, the train was delayed, and they did not arrive till about 8.30 p.m. A warm welcome awaited them, however, and Mayor McLeod, a prominent merchant of the town, spoke warmly in favour of The Army.

The Colonel gave a striking address at the conclusion of which, a vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Scott and seconded by Major Leckie, both of whom are warm friends and supporters of The Army. Captain Lewis and Lieutenant Jennings are in charge here.

The kindness and devotion of the Officers at all the Corps visited, deeply touched the Colonel and he wishes to put on record his appreciation of all services rendered.

A Clean Bill of Health.

That is What The Salvation Army Institution at Halifax Gets After a Visit by the Chairman of the Board of Health.

Are you ready for inspection? Is your place clean?

Adjutant Sheard, of The Salvation Army "Harbour" in Halifax, could certainly say this, and give the lie to the report made to the officer of the Board of Health, which he reported without investigation. The following extract from the Halifax Evening "Mail," speaks for itself:—

"The Board of Health, at its meeting yesterday afternoon, at which Messrs. Butler, Corstou, O'Brien and Shaffner were present, made the amende honorable, in reference to its former action in regard to The Salvation Army Harbour. Adjutant Sheard, who is in charge of the Home, was present, and spoke to the Board concerning Dr. Chisholm's statement about that institution."

The Adjutant said that up to the time Dr. Chisholm had made the statement that member of the Board had not visited the institution. He had made the charge on the strength of a report heard on the street. He had invited the members of the Board to pay a personal visit to the Home. The Chairman of the Board had responded to the invitation and could speak of conditions there.

Salvation Army "Harbour's" Great Work.

The Adjutant pointed out that during November, 1930 men had been accommodated at the Harbour. Coffee and buns had been supplied to 845 men. All the beds, 41 in number, are constantly in use. Only ten of these are available for transients each night, as the regular visitors occupy the others.

The fumigating apparatus is extensive enough to provide for disinfection of two hundred beds.

"Occasionally," said the Adjutant, "drunken men call at the Home for a bed. They are placed in special beds, which are invariably fumigated the next morning."

The Adjutant said that he had recently come from Toronto where he had had charge of the Street Salvation Army. (Continued on page 11.)

MAJOR McLEAN AT AN OLD SPOT.

Adjutant Jaynes Feels Like Dancing.

Dartmouth—We have just had a visit from our new Divisional Commander, Major McLean, who conducted our major meeting on Monday, Nov. 29th. TEMPERANCE AND SALVATION AT DOVERCOURT.

Four Choose the Right Path.

Temperance Sunday at Dovercourt, was characterised by the manifestation of the power of God. In the holiness meeting one dear man came out for salvation. The afternoon speakers were Brother Rowell, Brother Marshall and Brother Joe Neldrie who bore testimony to the power of God which saved them from strong drink.

The night meeting, made attractive by song and testimony, and made more powerful through the word recorded in Rev. vi., resulted in three seeking salvation. One Sister was the wife of the man who got saved in the morning meeting.—Josh

A BURDEN LIFTED.

How It Was Done.

Brantford.—During the past month twenty-six souls have been brought to God. Two came out for salvation on Sunday, November 28th.

A great burden on us, in the shape of finances for the winter's fuel and repairs to the furnace of our Hall has been lifted, and we are free. How did it happen? you say. The Officers and Locals met and decided to ask the Soldiers and comrades for $100.00. No hesitating was done; God upheld our faith, and when the total was taken in, there was just $100.00. Praise God!

The majority of our converts are coming on well.—F. D. C. C.

HALL WANTS EXPANDING.

We have had some glorious meetings at Leamington. The old Hall is too small to accommodate the crowds so the comrades will not be sorry when they get into their new Citadel.

Blenheim.—An enjoyable musical meeting was recently conducted here by Captain Gillingham and Bouc and Lieutenant Barker. Violin, mouthorgan, cornet, and vocal solos were included in the programme.

DEFIED THE STORM.

(From the Ocean Sound Herald.)

On Monday evening Nov. 29th, notwithstanding the gale that was blowing at a rate of fifty miles an hour, and accompanied by a heavy snow storm, The Salvation Army lads and ladies held their usual open-air service on Bag Avenue, East. There were very few who felt disposed to stop and listen to their singing and exhortations, but above the howl of the gale, and the sweeping of the elements they stood by their posts like Titans of old, ready to give up all to the cause of duty. It was a beautiful example of heroism and of deserving of special commendation. As we have said before, we honour The Salvation Army for what they are accomplishing for the good of mankind, and it is by such self-sacrifice that this great organisation has been able to accomplish so much practical good in the world. May there never be truce with many blessings.

At Parrboro, eight souls recently came to Christ. The meetings have been conducted by Captain Steinberg, Captain Miller, the new G. B. M. man, has also been with us, and his lantern service was very much enjoyed.—G. G. G.

SINNERS GETTING SAVED, AND DEVIL GETTING MAD.

God is blessing us in a wonderful way at St. Stephen, N. B. At our open-air on Sunday, a drunken man tried to interrupt us, but could not manage it. At the holiness meeting on Sunday, we had a glorious time, and at least five souls stepped into the fountain. We had a good, old-time Hallelujah wind-up.

The devil got so mad at the open-air on Monday night, that he made one man smack Captain Davies in the face, which did not upset that worthy one bit.

The Soldiers' meeting on Tuesday, was a heart-searching time and four comrades sought the blessing. Glory to God. Truly a remarkable run of meetings. We are in for a revival.—Corps Cor.

VANCOUVER STRUCK BY A RIBLE STORM.

Memorial Service Held.

Revised Service Held. Vancouver City has been struck by one of the worst storms in its history, namely the coming of the electric cars; one of the other a large, heavy car with bridge timbers in the car was loaded with people going over to the B. C. Ferry at New Westminster. The side of Vancouver, which had broke its way, started on a race down the passenger car with the force that the whole of the sides of the passenger car swept clear of the road. Fourteen men instantly, including nine others. The men in mourning.

On Sunday, November 29th, howell conducted a service at the hall of the band.

The Band played the "March in Saul" on the way back to the hall; thousands of people came on the sidewalks. The band packed to the doors.

Adjutant Howell spoke powerfully. God came into the souls were saved. The continuous people all the while were being made backsliders are getting able, and souls are being

We can rejoice over this forward for sanctification in less than two weeks.

On Saturday night, one man who had come from the city bury his daughter, came and recovered in the meeting.

Sunday, November 28th, we saw us, right from the end of the night meeting to His presence. At night we had a real soul-saving time. The power descended upon the Adjutant Howell spoke his text, "Where Art Thou?" Sinners trembled, were saved, and four yielded to the love of One Saviour, who had been a soldier volunteered out, and being stricken accepted pardon, realising her sins forgiven, she up off her knees and began to pray for joy. Praise the Lord!

Riverdale.—Ensign and his band had good weekend meetings on Saturday and Sunday, December 1st and 2nd. The Band was much evidence all day, their religious "Welsh Melodies." In the afternoon was fully appreciated the comrades and friends in the district, who hail from the local Lock.

The Reopening of Peterborough Citadel.

Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Gaskin and Brigadier Hargrave Conduct Meetings—The Mayor and Aldermen and Other Prominent Citizens Warmly Eulogize Work of Army.

T was a joyful day for the Peterborough Salvationists, when their Hall was formally reopened, after undergoing extensive alterations and repairs. Lieut.-Colonel Gaskin and Brigadier Hargrave came down to conduct the weekend services, and many prominent citizens showed their sympathy with the Army's work by occupying the platform and speaking warm words of congratulation.

On Saturday night the chair was taken by Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., who has for many years been one of the staunchest friends of the Army in the city. He paid a high tribute to the good work of The Army and gave a short, but all-round review of what they were doing as he had observed them. He further showed his interest in the movement by donating $250.00 towards the expenses of renovating the Citadel.

Both Colonel and Mrs. Gaskin addressed the meeting the Colonel giving an admirable description of the many-sided mission of The Army. His Honour Judge Huyske, was then called upon by the chairman for a few words, and very warmly he expressed his sentiments regarding The Army.

The Sunday afternoon meeting was presided over by Mayor Ruoh, and on the platform with him, were Aldermen Morgan, Gillespie, Duncan, Morrow and McElherin, also Sheriff Hall, Chief of Police Roszel and Fire Chief Howard. The Hall was packed to the doors, in his opening remarks, the Mayor assured all of his sympathy with The Army, and wished them continued prosperity in their good work. The Aldermen expressed themselves likewise.

Brigadier Morris and Brigade at Barrie.

Brigadier Morris and a Brigade of Officers visited an old battle-field—Barrie—on December 4th and 5th. Their first open-air engagement on the "Five Points" drew a big crowd. Father Miller, who, by the way, has already said nearly two hundred Christmas Cries on the streets) felt so happy that he could not refrain from expressing his feelings in a "welcome speech" to the Brigadier.

The inside meeting was well attended.

Captain Palmer made a special appeal for early risers to attend kneedril on Sunday morning, with the result that twenty-five came along.

The holiness meeting was a spiritual feast. At the close of Captain Palmer's address fifteen persons plunged into the cleansing fountain. At both afternoon and night services the Hall was full. At night, following a solo by Brigadier Morris, and Major Creighton's query, "Are there few that be saved?" one hand was raised, the owner signifying a desire for salvation. Then, the prayer meeting and battle for souls began in real earnest. Before it's Lieut.-Colonel Gaskin then gave an instructive address; briefly reviewing the work of The Army, and illustrating his facts by many amusing and pathetic anecdotes. J. S.M. Braund then said a few words, expressing his gratitude for the completion of the work of remodelling the Citadel, and thanking all who had contributed towards it, or had any share in the matter at all.

A vote of thanks to the chairman was then moved by Colonel Gaskin, seconded by Brigadier Hargrave, and then Fire Chief Howard moved a vote of thanks to Colonel and Mrs. Gaskin for coming, which was seconded by Chief of Police Roszel. Both motions were carried with enthusiasm.

The evening meeting was a time of much power and blessing. Mrs. Gaskin spoke forcefully, and the Colonel gave a most eloquent and powerful address. Five souls came to the mercy seat during the prayer meeting.

On Monday night a banquet and musical festival was held, presided over by Judge Huyske.

The Citadel has been remodelled, at a cost of $4000, and is now a very handsome and up-to-date building, capable of accommodating far larger crowds than formerly. At the back is a spacious dining room, while the basement is devoted to the J. S. Work. Fifteen class rooms have been constructed around an auditorium providing single room to teach the Juniors, a much-needed improvement. The whole work is very creditable to those who have had the task of making the alterations, and we trust that the Citadel will more than ever be the place where souls shall be brought to God.

Between times, Captain Palmer managed to conduct an interesting meeting with the Juniors, and Major Creighton accompanied Captain McDonald to the Jail, where twelve poor fellows were spoken to personally at the close of a little service, which the prison officials also attended.

Captain McDonald publicly invited the Brigadier and Brigade to make another visit to the Corps as soon as possible.

Brigadier Scott Potter at Brantford.

Major and Mrs. Green Assist.

The Financial Secretary spent the weekend, December 4th and 5th, at the strong S. A. fortress of Brantford, and had a magnificent reception, and good time altogether.

On Saturday night, the Brigadier, attired in Japanese costume, delivered his lecture on Japan. The Hall was packed with an attentive and interested crowd, who laughed heartily at the curious customs of the people of the Orient, but were still more impressed with the religious side of Japanese life, and The Army's efforts in this connection.

Sunday was a delightful day, so far as the weather was concerned, and in point of interest, crowds and blessings. Gog was very near in the holiness meeting.

The Band and the Sonsiders rendered whole-souled service all day.

At all the previous meetings the Hall was full, but at night people were standing.

It was with the greatest expectation that souls would be saved, that the prayer meeting was entered upon, and before it was finally concluded six souls had been dealt with at the mercy seat.

An early return visit of the Specials was asked for.

The Officers in charge, Esquis and Mrs. Baird, are meeting with good success. Special services, drawing good crowds, are held every Saturday night. An important series of Soldiers' meetings is about to be entered upon.—Wanderer.

Major Phillips and Brigade at Toronto VIII.

A Good Soul-Saving Weekend.

Major Phillips and his Brigade of Officers conducted special weekend meetings at Parliament Street, on Saturday and Sunday, December 4th and 5th.

The Hall proved to be far too small to accommodate the crowds which attended every meeting.

On Saturday night music and song was freely indulged in. Captain Marshall was again to the forefront with his attractive solos. Major Phillips' evocation address convinced his listeners, and three persons sought the Saviour at the mercy seat.

On Sunday the meetings were equally well attended and blessed by God. At both outdoor and indoor meetings interest never flagged. One soul came forward to the holiness meeting. At night another sought the pardon of past sins. One convert had been a backslider for over nine years.

down Army Hotel in that city. The reports when were unfounded, were detrimental to him and to the institution of which he was the head.

Chairman Vindicates Institution.

Chairman Baird said he had visited the institution since the report to the Board had been made. Everything was perfectly clean—surprisingly so. Two beds were reserved specially for persons of particular habits, and these were isolated and were fumigated daily after use.

On motion of Mr. Green, the visit of the Chairman will be considered as an official visit, and the Board will notify The Salvation Army that everything has been found satisfactory.

CLEANLINESS IS NEXT TO GODLINESS.

We are still having victory at Brantford. On Sunday, November 14th, good meetings were held all day. One soul came to the Cross at night. On Monday night a Young People's meeting was held by Brothers Evans and Stone. At the close a young girl came to the front and found salvation.—G. E.

The Editor at Hamilton II.

Editor Board and a portion of Editorial Staff, spent the week-end at Hamilton II, and, according to those who should know, the week-end, the best for finances and health, that the Corps has known for half a century.

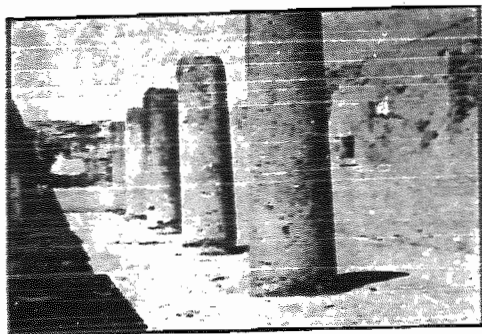

As stories told by the Editor, and related by the Artist, drew great life in the operator. We hope what was seen and heard made an impression. Inside, the conditions were greatly improved.

Interfered by the special meeting the party received a press invitation to come again at an early date.

Private Andrews and Captain Palmer have done a splendid work in the Corps, which, although not a one, is full of spirit and in form.

At Brantford.—During the absence of the writer at Councils, Mr. Hefferlin led the meetings, with the assistance of the comrades, formed the forts of darkness, won nine souls for the Master. Antontant M. Dicks.

When Discovered and Explored by American Archaeologists.

In the Hall of Columns, at Mitla. The Columns Are in One Piece, About Twelve Feet in Height.

During the excavation, the steps of the grand stairway were discovered. These were found to be very high and to appear so that the foot could not be placed upon them sideways. The other interesting feature known of the Middle palace is the temple to the one already referred to by Fray Francisco de Burman, of Oaxaca. It is interesting, although not very important, and is contradicted by ancient ruins as follows:

The drift, in this square, this beautiful house or palace, with its stables and subterranean, the latrine and cemetery which was found under the house, and the ruins of the bath which contained 4,000

The two walls are four feet apart, and are joined by a series of thick and as many the distance apart. The flat surface, which is so much alike, was so well supported, and so much alike, and without any cost or expense, that it was a great advantage. The walls, however, were not so much alike, and without any cost or expense, that it was a great advantage. The small stones used in building up the raised sections on the high walls, were placed in position sometimes with, and sometimes without mortar or cement, and to-day, after a long lapse of time, these patterns which so thickly beset the Great Wall, are in many cases still perfect.

OUR INTERNATIONAL NEWS LETTER

MISSIONARY REINFORCEMENTS.

November 25th, 1909.

Several parties of reinforcements being got together for service in different Missionary Countries. Japanese party will leave first. It will consist of seven Officers, as follows: Captain Anna Beckley, of England; Captain and Mrs. Charles Jensen, of Denmark; Captain Ed. Nilsson; Lieutenant Marja Johansen and Lieutenant Engelgard Blom, of Sweden; and Lieutenant Derenter, of Holland. They proceeded to their new battle and by the Netherland Line steamer "Koning Willem I." leaving Southampton on November 25th.

At India. Adjutant and Mrs. William Joy, at present in charge of the Naval and Military Home at Portsmouth, will be for Trinidad, on December 8th, the S.S. "Thames."

At America.

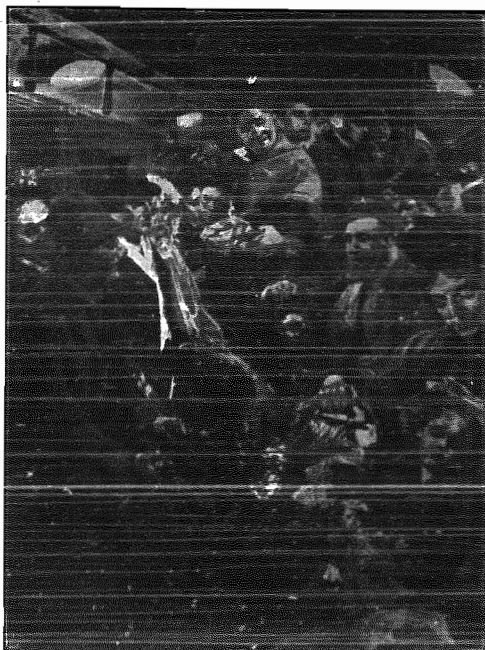

Adjutant and Mrs. Booth, who have been furloughing in this country, will leave Southampton on their return journey on December 10th. They will take charge of a small party of Officers, including the two women Lieutenants commissioned at present at the close of the British season.

At India.

The Indian party, numbering seven, will leave on December 17th by the "City of Manchester," for Bombay. This party comprises four young women from the Swedish Training Home, who received their commissions as Officers at the close of the Session, and two other women Officers, who are being trained in this country. Major Raymond (Byrne), an experienced Indian Officer, returning from furlough, will be in charge of the party.

AUSTRALASIA.

Colonel Brangle's Coming Campaigns. It has been arranged that Colonel Brangle will pay a visit to Australia and New Zealand in the New Year, in order to conduct a great holiness and Revival Campaign. It is proposed that the Colonel shall sail from San Francisco to New Zealand early in February. Three months will probably be spent in the North and South Islands of New Zealand, after which the Colonel will go on to Australia.

ASIA.

Opening of Kyoto Hall.

Our recently purchased Hall at Kyoto, Japan was opened on November 3rd, the Emperor's birthday. It is a beautiful building, which is entered through a picturesque gateway. The ground floor of the Hall is provided with seats but the gallery, which runs across the back part of the building, is fitted with tatami, or reed mats, upon which the people sit in Japanese fashion, having left their shoes or sandals at the door on entering. Altogether, the building gives accommodation for four hundred persons.

A large crowd assembled for the opening services, which were conducted by Acting-Commissioner Hodge.

An Indian Commissioning.

The commissioning of the twenty-nine Cadets who have passed through the Session in the Central Training Home at Bombay, was conducted on November 22nd, by Commissioner Fakir Singh. These Cadets came from all the six Territories in to which our work in India and Ceylon is divided for purposes of administration. Three were Europeans, the remainder being English-speaking natives of India or Ceylon.

"I am going for life, if The Army will let me stay so long; and, at any rate, it will be for years. I am not afraid of getting the disease, for I am going on God's service. I have counted the cost and I quite understand what the risks are. I have to die—and, if needs be, I may as well die out there amongst those stricken souls."

"I have never been out of England, and I have not yet seen a leper, but I was very much interested by an account of work amongst the lepers. So, when, a few weeks ago, The Army called for volunteers to go abroad, I offered to go to Java."

"My parents count it a great honour that I am going, and, whatever they may feel, they have said nothing about any fear that I shall never come back."

Some idea of the terrible nature of this disease may be gathered from the following extract, taken from a report of a visit by the Headquarters Staff of The Army in South Africa to the Lepers Settlement on Robben Island. These Cadets, with their Band, pay periodical visits to this unhappy community, in order to bring them music and cheer. Describing the congregation of lepers, the writer says:—

"A certain form of leprosy appears to attack the faces of its victims, and to give them the appearance of wearing hideous masks, while another seems to confine its ravages to the limbs, and leave the face untouched. Two little girls in the front row, could not be distinguished from old women, except in that their faces were swollen, distorted and

A Woman Jemadar.

Brigadier Yesu Das (Himmat Singh) reports upon a meeting at a village called Apiculla, in the Telugu country, which was conducted by Colonel Sena Singh. At this meeting the number of women who came forward to seek salvation, considerably exceeded that of the men. This is an extremely unusual occurrence in India, but in this case it was probably due to the influence of a remarkable woman Jemadar or Sergeant who has been faithfully standing by the Flag in this village for a considerable time past.

AMERICA.

Buffalo Rescue Home.

Last year no fewer than sixty women were committed to our Rescue Home by the Court Judge. We have in Buffalo, a woman Probationary Officer, who is constantly in attendance at the Prison, and who has succeeded in gaining the confidence of the officials and the leading people of the city.

A detached building has just been erected in connection with the Home, which is called to Hospital Annex, and is intended to be used for any infectious cases, should any necessity arise.

South American Congress.

The Annual Congress for the Officers working in the Argentine and Uruguayan Republics, was held in Buenos Ayres from November 15th to 19th, and was conducted by the new Territorial Leader, Commissioner Coanday.

AFRICA.

Enlargement of War Cry.

Our old friend, the South African War Cry, published in Cape Town, has increased the number of its pages from eight to twelve. This will enable the different aspects of the Work to be more fully represented than has been possible in the past. The circulation is already increasing satisfactorily, as a result of the change.

St. Stephen.—The open-air attendance this weekend beat all records. Cartridges well used. Three souls have come to God for salvation. During the month of November, eighteen persons sought the mercy seat.—Corps Correspondent.

discouraged in a manner in which even old age does not deal with the human countenance. A little further along the same street, however, there was a young woman with a bright, cheerful face and winsome expression, albeit there was a wistfulness about it which spoke of deep heart-distraught; a glance at her hands revealed the fact that she too, was a leper. Whiteish flesh and distorted joints marking the progress of the test case."

It is to this class that Captain Anna Beckley has devoted her life. We understand that leprosy is only contagious under certain conditions; most of which may be avoided. This, however, does not detract from the value and significance of our comrade's consecration of herself to this work.

FOR THE LEPERS.

Salvation Army Officer Consecrates Her Life to the Service of the Lepers in Java.

WHAT LEPROSY IS LIKE.

In our International News Letter it will be found the name of Captain Anna Beckley, of England, who with a number of other Officers, has been selected for service in Java. This comrade's case is of special interest, inasmuch as she has received marching orders for the Lepers Settlement in that country. It is, without doubt, one of the most self-sacrificing branches of Salvation Army service.

"Nevertheless," says the Captain,

Salvation Songs

Holiness.

Tunes.—Thou Shepherd of Israel, 111; Realms of the Blest, 110.

1 Thou Shepherd of Israel and mine,
The joy and desire of my heart;

For closer communion I pine,
I long to reside where Thou art.

Chorus.

Oh, speak while before Thee I pray,
And, O Lord, just what seemeth

Reveal, and my heart shall obey.

Ah! show me that happiest place,
The place of Thy people's abode;
Where saints in true happiness gaze
And hang on a crucified God.

Thy love for a sinner declare,
Thy passion and death on the tree;
My spirit to Calvary bear,
To suffer and triumph with Thee.

Tune.—My mind upon Thee, 254;
Song Book, No. 412.

2 My mind upon Thee, Lord, is stayed,
My all upon Thy altar laid,

Oh, hear my prayer!
And alone, in singleness of aim,
I parted with all, Thy power to gain
O God, draw near.

Chorus.

Saviour, dear Saviour, draw nearer,
Humble in spirit I kneel at Thy cross;

Speak out Thy wishes still clearer,
And I will obey at all cost.

By every promise Thou hast made,
And by the price Thy love hast paid;

For my release,
I claim the power to make me whole,
And keep through every hour my soul
In perfect peace.

War and Testimony.

Tunes.—Nativity, 51; Grimaby, 33;
Song Book, No. 215.

3 I've found the Pearl of Greatest Price

My heart doth sing for joy;
And e'en I must, for Christ I have,
Oh, what a Christ have I.

My Christ, He is the Lord of lords,
He is the King of kings;

He is the Sun of Righteousness,
With healing in His wings.

My Christ, He is the Heaven of heavens

My Christ, what shall I call?

My Christ is first, my Christ is last,
My Christ is all-in-all.

Tune.—Storm the forts of darkness,
273; Song Book No. 626.

4 Soldiers of our God arise!

The day is drawing nearer;
Shake the slumber from your eyes,
The light is growing clearer.

Sit no longer idly by,
While the headless millions die;

While the headless millions die,
And take the field for Jesus.

Chorus.

Storm the forts of darkness,

Warriors of the bleeding Lamb,
Army of Salvation,

Spread the fame of Gilead's balm,
Cougher every corner.

Raise the glorious standard higher,
Strike for victory—never tire,

Forward march with Blood and Fire!
And win the world for Jesus.

Salvation.

Tunes.—Sovereignty, B. D. 119;
Madrid, B.B. 117; Stella B.B. 120.

5 Would Jesus have the sinner die?

Why hangs He then on yon
Cruel tree?
